PAST

Founded in 1849 by Capt. Charles Weber, Stockton began as a tent settlement and supply center for the southern mines during the California Gold Rush. Between 1850 when it incorporated, and 1900 when Stockton emerged as a popular destination for entertainment and recreation, citizens altered the natural waterways running through the city to alleviate the devastating frequent floods and coordinated interstate water and rail with local transportation systems.

California Building is now 100 years old.

Downtown Stockton is filled with signature historic architecture that will take you back to the times when Stockton was called "the brick city." Many of the oldest civic and commercial buildings are still in use and feature the original ornate facades and classic interiors.

You can enjoy Downtown Stockton's impressive directory of historic sites and public art by taking a self-guided tour with Celebrate! History & Art Guide (included in this publication on page 17 or at downtownstockton.org) or to schedule a free guided tour, call the Alliance's Resident Historian Ambassador at 209 64.5246 for details.

PRESENT

Today, the historic Downtown Stockton is in the heart of California's 13th largest city. It is home to regional rail, water, and street transportation. The Downtown Stockton Marina and the Port of Stockton connect our downtown with waterways leading all the way to the Bay Area. The seat of San Joaquin County government, Downtown Stockton employs over 20,000 people in the County's Superior Court House, public assistance services, police, and local government offices, in addition to private sector employees.

Modern solutions and designs coexist harmoniously with the historic buildings. From the chic outdoor rooms of the Waterfront Hotel to the steel and glass structure of the San Joaquin Administration, the downtown features a wide variety of styles and artistic visions.

3 Ways Your Old Anti-virus Software Vulnerable To Criminals! Is Leaving Your Business

BAD NEWS HERE! If you're relying on traditional anti-virus solutions to prevent today's advanced attacks, you are an EASY target for these criminals. Keep reading to find out how YOU are giving these crooks open access to your network.

You've done everything you know to do: select a firewall, keep your anti-virus software up to date, and train your employees - so you're safe from these crooks, right?

According to recent studies, anti-virus only stops about 35% of malicious software. That means that a whopping 65% of threats may be infiltrating YOUR network! That's because today's attacks are sneakier, stealthier, AND they spread much more easily than in the past.

So How Do You Keep Yourself Safe From This?

While nothing is 100% foolproof, there are advanced solutions that boast up to a 99.6% success rate. Any advanced solution must protect you during 3 critical times:

- 1. Before an attack. Every solution you evaluate must focus on keeping your network safe before a threat even begins. That solution should not react to yesterday's news, but should proactively keep you safe from current threats.
- 2. During an attack. It is important that your solution is sophisticated enough to detect malicious software and shut it down immediately so that it doesn't spread through your network.
- 3. After the attack. Some threats will sneak through even the best defenses. It is imperative that you have the ability to see what files were compromised, what countries your network connected to, exactly how the threat got into your network, AND clean it all up!

Call Our Office And We'll Give You An Anti-Virus Audit ABSOLUTELY

We'll come to your office and:

- Evaluate your current anti-virus software
- Test your defenses against today's sophisticated threats

We normally charge $1,500 for this type of individualized security audit, but you will get this service absolutely FREE as well as special pricing on our Advanced Endpoint Protection Service. There's no obligation to buy anything, once the evaluation is complete. We simply want to make sure your network is safe from today's threats.

1 Emergency Hospital (not in service), c. 1905, 220 N. San Joaquin Street. It was built in the Mission Revival style and replaced the old receiving hospital located in the cellar of the county jail building, originally next door. Between 1905 and 1941, almost a half million people received care in the hospital.

2 Medico-Dental Building, c. 1927, 242 N. Sutter Street. The downtown's tallest building, the 12-story Commercial Gothic building was originally devoted exclusively to medical and dental p r o f e s s i o n a l s. The cornerstone reads

"Dedicated to the Practice of Medical Service and to the Service of Humanity."

3 Elks Building, c. 1908, 36 N. Sutter Street. The 5-story building originally housed the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks until 1976. The building featured a huge stained glass dome skylight intended for the San Francisco Elks Hall however destroyed by the Great 1906 Earthquake and Fire. The building lobby contains the original mosaic floor with Elks motif.

4 S.H. Kress Building, (c. 1930) 409 E. Main Street. Decorated with terracotta elements from the renowned Gladding McBean firm, the structure boasts one of the city's finest Art Deco facades. The interior lobby features a large mural designed by Russel Joseph Buckingham in 2005.

5 Masonic Lodge, (Carl Werner, Allen McDonald, 1922) 340 E. Market St., Spanish Revival Style. The elaborate, Gothic influenced, plaster work wraps around the recessed entrance and extends upwards toward the huge arched windows. Unlike many historical Stockton buildings, the architecture appears to be unaltered.

6 H e n e r y Apartments, (Glenn Allen, c. 1913) 121 S. Sutter Street. The brick and terracotta building in a distinctive Mansard roof style with three dormers facing the street. Arched windows, cornices with medallions and decorative brackets identify the Henery as a fine example of French Second Empire Style.

Cort Tower (Commercial & Savings Bank). C. 1915. 343 E. Main Street. Built the Commercial bv & Savings Bank, this is a fine example of the Beaux Arts -Renaissance Revival style in vogue early in the century. The building was heavily damaged by a fire in 1923, and following repairs was doubled in size. The building was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1980.

Bank of Stockton (Stockton Savings & Loan Society), c. 1908, 301 E. Main Street. Stockton's first "skyscraper." Designed by San Francisco architects Meyers and Ward in the Classic Revival style. The building featured Stockton's first revolving door and an interior of marble quarried in Tuolumne County. The top two floors used to be occupied by The Yosemite Club, the oldest private club in California, which was founded in 1889 and closed in 2010.

9 California Building (Farmer's and Merchant's Bank), c. 1917, 11 S. San Joaquin Street. The Italian Renaissance Revival building was designed by prominent San Francisco architect, George W. Kelham, who also designed the St. Francis Hotel and San Francisco Public Library. The central lobby features Tennessee marble floors with walls and pillars covered with Travertine marble. Its coffered ceilings are 25 feet high and are ornamented with painted plaster.

🚹 Bob Hope Theatre (Fox California Theatre), 242 East Main Street. Constructed within 14 months in the Spanish Colonial Revival style by Fox Theatres, it opened on October 14, 1930. After closing for renovations in 2002, the Fox was reopened in September 2004 as the Bob Hope Theatre. One of the only remaining "movie palaces" in California. The sidewalk mosaic represents the rebirth of the theatre (Myklebust & Sears, 2005). The exterior lobby has the original tile and chandelier. The interior lobby features vibrant colors, gold leaf and restored chandeliers. The Italian marble floor mosaic, made up of 80,000 pieces, represents the fountain and pool which once stood in the rotunda (Evergreen/Siebrand, 2005) and is surrounded by new carpet, duplicated from historical photos. Artwork throughout includes gargoyles, coats of arms and a mural of mythic horses. The Mighty Robert Morton Organ was originally installed in the Seattle Fox Theatre.

11 St. Mary's Catholic Church, c. 1861, 203 E. Washington Street. The building has been modified since the cornerstone was laid in 1861. A transept was added in 1870 and the steeple bell tower was raised in 1893, but it remains true to its red brick Gothic Revival style. (Photo on page 19)

Main Street: In the 1850s, the waterfront businesses, plagued by a series of floods and fires, started migrating towards Main Street. Early buildings included grocery and provision stores, saddle and harness shops, as well as hardware and machinery merchants. Horse drawn carts and buggies traveled the unpaved road while pedestrians used the wooden sidewalks. By the turn of the century, Stockton had grown into an industrial city. Streetcars running down Main Street and the presence of banks, hotels, and theatres, attracted a steady flow of visitors. By the 1930's, Main Street boasted several skyscrapers and became the center of town's leading shops and prominent businesses. The pioneer stores were replaced by larger retail stores, including the Owl Drug Store, J.C. Penny's, or Woolworth's. During the 1960's, Main Street was made into a oneway street in an effort to improve the flow of traffic downtown.

12 Anchored (Steve Petruska and Diane Pumpelly Bates, 2016) Dean DeCarli Square. The sculpture reflects dynamic nature of change; how histories begin, end and overlap. Stainless steel structure, 23 feet high.

13 E t h n i c Diversity Sculpture (Eric Lee, 1989), corner of San Joaquin and Weber, concrete. This site honors the ethnic diversity of San Joaquin County.

14 Art on the Waterfront. Stroll on the Joan Darrah Promenade alongside the south shore of the Deep Water Channel and notice stainless steel and bronze images imbedded in the walkway. They were designed and installed by Dan Snyder, Berkeley, and tell the history of this area. Water creature elements incorporated in stair railings, bicycle racks, and light poles were designed by Wayne Chabre, Walla Walla, WA. At the end of the Promenade is Morelli's Park and Boat Launch featuring a multi-colored group of stainless steel and aluminum kinetic sculptures. They were fabricated and installed by Mark White, of Santa Fe, NM, in 2009.

15 In 2009, Moto Ohtake of Santa Cruz installed a twenty foot high kinetic sculpture, entitled "Airbourne" at the North Point (near the Waterfront Hotel). The large abstract piece features wind driven paddles which rotate in different directions inside a hoop. The sculpture is made of brushed stainless steel.

16 Hotel Stockton, c. 1910, 145 E. Weber Avenue. One of the finest examples of Spanish Mission Revival architecture in California. The first all steel reinforced concrete construction in the San Joaquin Valley. "The Stockton" was restored and officially reopened in 2005. The lobby features original fireplace and two story mezzanine. Oak railings and w a i n s c o t i n g were exactly replicated and leaded stained glass panels were cleaned and restored. The upper floors now provide apartments and the great rooftop terrace offers a magnificent waterfront view to the west. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

17 Tretheway Building, c. 1892, 227 E. Weber Ave. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the building was originally the Argonaut Hotel with a hardware store on the ground level. Built in the Queen Anne style with Romanesque and Moorish influences, the facade is embellished with cast zinc floral patterns and sandstone. The building originally had a much taller false front parapet which fell as a result of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906.

18 B e I d i n g Building, 110 N. San Joaquin St. Built in 1915 by Charles Belding, Mayor of Stockton 1878 -1879, in the Beaux Arts-Renaissance Revival architecture style. Once occupied by the Belding Soda Works, whose glass bottles are still in demand by collectors. Today, the building is a prime location for office and co-work spaces as well as ground floor restaurants.

Downtown Sidewalk Brass Inlays (Dan Snyder, 2004) Snyder placed six sets of brass inlays around the downtown area, catching the attention of Guaranty Bank. That prompted Guaranty to commission Stockton's first public/private public art partnership in placing a set of brass inlays in front of the Guaranty Bank branch on Hunter Street.

19 St. John's Episcopal Church, c. 1889, and Guild Hall, c. 1892, 306 N. El Dorado Street. The Episcopal congregation built their first church on this site in 1857. The current St. John's building is a rare example of Nordic architecture and replaced the first church after it was demolished in 1889. The chancel window from the original church is located above the west entrance. The building is known for its superior acoustics and intimate surroundings. St. John's parish is the third oldest Episcopal Church on the Pacific Coast.

20 City Hall, c. 1926, 325 N. El Dorado Street. Built in the Grecian-Iconic style of stone and marble, the lobby of this elegant building feature a richly coffered ceiling and decorative bronze electroliers. A mural by Gregg Custodio represents different ethnic groups and trades that settled in Stockton.

21 Martin Luther King, Jr. Statue (Rafael Arrieta-Eskarzaga, 2004), MLK Plaza, El Dorado St., bronze. One arm of the statue is raised and pointing east to a dawn of new hope.

22 Civic Memorial Auditorium, c. 1926, 525 N. Center Street. The Roman-Doric style building is dedicated in memory of Americans who lost their lives in WW I. The exterior is finished in stucco to resemble sandstone and trimmed with terra cotta. Each side presents a polychrome panel of the seal of the City of Stockton, State of California, federal government and emblems of the American Legion, Spanish American War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Grand Army of the Republic. The 12 emblems of the armed forces are on the building's frieze.

Central Fire Alarm Station. c. 1926, 46 W. Fremont Street. The Beaux Arts - Classical Revival style building was built to house Stockton's Gamwell Fire Telegraph relay equipment. It served as the central location for emergency calls to the Fire Department from call boxes located throughout the city.

24 Memorial to Mexican Braceros (Rafael Arietta Eskarzaga, 2002), McLeods Park, bronze, cement, masonry. Shows a bracero working in the field.

25 World War II Memorial, At the waterfront, south of McLeod's Park, granite. Dedicated to all men and women of Stockton, many of whom paid the ultimate sacrifice, who served their country overseas and on the home front during World War II, December 1941 through September 1945.

6 Stockton Rising (Scott Donahue.

2006), N.Madison and W. Fremont St., concrete with bronze. The overall cylindrical form is similar to the Arena's. The large figures represent athletes without personifying a particular sport. The smaller figures refer to the family, friends, and community. Historic B&M Building at 125 Bridge Place is the second oldest building in Downtown Stockton. Today, it's home to Visit Stockton and to Downtown Stockton Alliance.

27 Event Center Garage Entryway Feature (Gordon Huether, 2005) 22,000 Mattell toy cars make up this piece on the west side of the Stockton Arena parking garage. The cars are epoxied and urethane sealed onto 4ft x 8ft sections. The mosaic exploits an idea of tonguein-cheek humor, the element of surprise, and the direct relevance to the building holding the artwork.

28 C o n f u c i u s M o n u m e n t , McLeods Lake at Center St. 13.5 foot high pagodalike monument of red and green tile; a bi-centennial celebration gift from the Chinese Community to Stockton. The red roof tiles and inscribed marble slabs were hand crafted in Taiwan. The north facing slab explains Chinese philosophy of the Great Harmony and the east one shows an image of Confucius.

29 Sperry Flour Mill, c. 1888, 146 W. Weber Ave. The Victorian Commercial style building was at one time the 2nd largest flour milling operation in California. An addition was built in 1917.

30 Sperry Union Mill Warehouse, c. 1870, known as the Waterfront Warehouse, 445 W. Weber Ave. The oldest surviving structure on the Stockton Channel. Part of the Eureka Warehouse complex occupied by the Granger Cooperative Union in the 1870s. Now occupied by restaurants and offices, it features exposed interior wood beams and a picturesque amphitheater. 31 Nippon Hospital, 25 S. Commerce St. The 2-story brick structure with elements of Classic Revival architecture. Built in 1919, it served the largest Japanese population in the U.S. at that time and operated until 1930, when it became a hotel. It's the last standing structure built by Stockton's early Japanese community.

Downtown maintenance hole covers, (Molly Toberer) carry an aesthetic legacy of the American 1930's. There are 20 units spread from Martin Luther King Plaza to Main St. and from Weber Point to San Joaquin St. 17 unique designs represented such themes as Work, Taste, Grow, Invent, Sister Cities and others.

Weber Avenue Tree Guards and Grates (Scott Runion, 2002) serve to protect new trees and provide vertical and horizontal art elements. The tree grate has a water lily and fish theme while the tree guard has six cattails emerging out of the rippling water. The green stalks and leaves have been powder-coated in green for a hard and durable surface and the cattail heads have been treated to create a rich brown color as in nature. The design merges the regional and historical heritage of the Delta and the waterways.

MISAKI SUSHI & BAR 222 N. El Dorado St. #M 209.547.1288

Right next to the Downtown Cinema, this place gets really crowded on weekends. Drop in for a sake bomb or two and fresh, creative sushi!

CAST IRON TRADING CO. 114 N. San Joaquin St. 209.227.8585

Located in the historic Belding Building, the restaurant seamlessly combines vintage wood floors with a clean "hipster spot" vibe. They offer a fresh local, and seasonal menu with a variety of craft beers and wine. Order some flavor-loaded pub grub or a crunchy, locally sourced salad. Come for great food, unforgettable atmosphere and live music on weekends!

A local nano brewery and tap room where you can enjoy a frosty glass with food from any of the downtown restaurants (bring your own). Order a flight to taste unique beers such as the Smokey Oakey or the Shipwrecker Triple IPA. Relax, play a board game, watch a sports game on wide screen TVs or come for a night of energizing local music performed live in the adjacent Thrift Store.

DELIBERATION ROOM 19 N. California Street 209.910.9477

Step back in time and experience the dim atmosphere of a speak-easy bar. Complete with raw brick walls, tall ceilings and a polished wood bar, this venue brings back the 1920s vibe of the Prohibition Era. Relax in a cozy sitting area, sip on an expertly made Side Car or try an item from their healthy gourmet menu. Open until 2 am on Fridays and Saturdays, often hosting local bands and stand up comedy. Parking is right next door.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM OF STOCKTON 402 W. Weber Avenue 209.465.4386 www.childrensmuseumstockton.org

The museum features hands-on, play-based exhibits enhancing a child's understanding of how the world works. On the exhibit floor, over a dozen different child-sized environments recreate the ambience of a small city. At each exhibit in the museum's tiny town, there are tools and/or machines that can be manipulated by the children, who weigh postcards at the post office, count money at the bank and perform tasks of that particular occupation. Admission is $6 and kids under 2 years are free.

BOB HOPE "FOX" THEATRE 242 E. Main Street 209.373.1400 www.stocktonlive.com

REGAL CITY CENTRE STADIUM 16 & IMAX 222 N. El Dorado Street 209.461.0356

City Centre Stadium movie theatre is located in the heart of downtown at the Janet Leigh Plaza. The plaza and large glass dome surrounding the theatre are reminiscent of a Spanish plaza as locals gather here to enjoy fine outdoor dining, ice cream shops, and water fountains. On weekend evenings, families can also enjoy live entertainment and colorful Street Performers. The plaza was dedicated on October 13, 2006, to Janet Leigh who was born and raised in Stockton.

The IMAX screen is a recent addition to the Downtown Cinema. The technology involves an especially high-resolution image projected on a large, slightly curved screen that is closer to the audience and provides the impression of being surrounded or "inside" the moving image.

CESAR CHAVEZ CENTRAL LIBRARY 605 N. El Dorado Street 209.937.8221 www.ssjcpl.org

The public library is located just on the north boundary of downtown by the picturesque Martin Luther King Jr. Plaza. It is a full service library with computer and Internet access, free classes and workshops. The Children's Section features a large mural designed and painted by a local muralist and educator, Temo Moreno.

The Library also offers a wide range of fun events for all ages including magic and theater shows, story-telling times, and science and computer activities. These events are free to attend.

SAN JOAQUIN LAW LIBRARY 20 N. Sutter Street (Kress Legal Center) 209.468.3920

Kress Legal Center is a fine example of historic renovation at its best (for details see "Celebrate Art & History" insert). The first floor of the building hosts the County's Public Law Library which always features art exhibits of local and nationally renowned artists. The library also offers computer access.

Take a leisurely self-guided tour of public art displayed along the Joan Darrah Promenade from Center Street to Morelli Park (see the selfguided tour included in this Guide).

DOWNTOWN MARINA & JOAN DARRAH PROMENADE 445 W. Weber Avenue 209.462.4200

The Marina features long-term and guest docks, restrooms, showers, and parking. Located right next to a variety of restaurants, Baseball Park, and Stockton Arena, it offers a great view of downtown and the Stockton Port. Completely renovated, Joan Darrah's waterfront promenade is a great location for walking, jogging and enjoying public art. To reserve a dock, contact the City of Stockton at 209.462.4200.

BANNER ISLAND BALLPARK 404 W. Fremont Street 209.644.1900

www.StocktonPorts.com

The waterfront home of the Stockton Ports is both beautiful and unique. The ball park faces out to the waterfront so you can enjoy the downtown skyline and deepwater channel over a hot dog and some peanuts. Because the distance from home plate to the water is less than 400 feet, home runs often land in the channel! A few fun features to take in – at the "Back porch" you can watch the game in a rocking chair, past the outfield along the seawall is a kid's area with games and inflatable jumpers, and along the first base line are batting cages for the budding star. For upcoming events at the Banner Island Ballpark, see the calendar of events on the back cover. Ticket prices range from $9 to $15.
